VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF GIVEN

PERSONAL INJURY CASE OF M. N. WOLFF DECIDED.

Judgment Given in Sum of Twenty Thousand Dollars After Hard Fight Before Court.

In district court yesterday morning the last witness was examined in the big $50,000 personal injury case of M. N. Wolff, against the Union Pacific Railroad company, et al., and Judge Maughn gave the attorneys on either side two hours in which to make their arguments.

The jury was given the case soon after the noon hour, they deliberating upon the question during the major portion of the afternoon. Within twenty minutes after the jury returned from supper, the bailiff announced that they were ready to report. The verdict was read in open court, giving the plaintiff judgment in the sum of $20,000.

The case has been a hard fought one, it having been before Judge Maughn and the jury for nearly a week, each side fighting every inch of the ground with a determination commensurate with the importance of the case and the sum of money involved.

The plaintiff in the case at the time of the accident was acting as chief clerk in Master Mechanic Malone's office. On the 13th of October, 1906, Mr. Wolff, the plaintiff, undertook to cross the railroad tracks immediately west of the express office at the Union depot. A number of trains were then upon the tracks, and on track four a train had been uncoupled for the purpose of permitting the passage of people over the track. According to the testimony adduced at the trial, Mr. Wolff started to cross the track at this point and while doing so he was caught by one section of the train, which then was being coupled to the other part. He was caught between the two sections of the train and suffered injuries which caused the amputation of both legs, one just below the knee, the other immediately above the ankle, and three of his fingers were so injured that they had to be amputated.

RESULTS THAT REMAIN.

Are Appreciated by Ogden People.

Thousands who suffer from backache and kidney complaint have tried one remedy after another, finding only temporary benefit. This is discouraging, but there is one special kidney medicine that cures permanently and there is plenty of proof right here in Ogden.

There is the testimony of one who used Doan's Kidney Pills years ago, and now states that the cure was lasting. James Rennie, 2974 Washington avenue, Ogden, Utah, says: "It gives me pleasure to state that since using Doan's Kidney Pills, I have not suffered from the slightest symptom of kidney trouble. For nearly five years I was made miserable by a constant ache across the small of my back. I was also caused a great deal of annoyance by the kidney secretions. When Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a box at Badcock's pharmacy, and was cured. I know of others who have taken this remedy with excellent results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

YOUNG MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

ORSON P. SAUNDERS DRINKS CARBOLIC ACID.

Cause of Dreadful Deed Unknown to Family and Friends—Dependency Probable Cause.

Why Orson P. Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saunders, should take his own life yesterday afternoon is a mystery to his parents and friends. He had been jovial with his friends and companions during the day and his parents say he had shown no signs of dependency or even discouragement at any time during the last few days nor at any time in his life so far as they know.

It seems, however, that there was something preying upon his mind which drove him to desperation and at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the Pullman bar on Twenty-fifth street, between Grant and Lincoln avenues, he drank nearly three ounces of carbolic acid which ended his life within 20 minutes after he drank the poison. At the time of the enactment of the tragedy, he was talking with a number of friends in a jovial and cheerful way. He walked to the rear of the bar room and entered the toilet. When he returned from there he took a seat beside a friend on the ice chest and within 15 minutes after he had seated himself he went into convulsions. His friend, Mr. Atkin, who was seated on the ice chest where Saunders sat down, noticed a peculiar expression of his eyes and asked him what was the matter. Saunders was then speechless, the shadow of death having already fallen upon him.

Dr. Conroy was summoned, and within ten minutes' time was at the unfortunate man's side endeavoring to save his life. He had passed his last breath within 15 minutes after he had taken the poison. A four ounce bottle one-third full of carbolic acid was found in his pocket; he had drunk the balance of the poison which is estimated to have been fully two and one-quarter ounces. The label on the bottle bore the firm name of the T. H. Carr Drug company, and it was soon learned that he had purchased the bottle of acid at the Carr drug store on the corner of Grant avenue and Twenty-fifth street only a short time before the tragedy. The clerk at the Carr store stated that when Mr. Saunders bought the poison he said that he was buying it for his brother-in-law, William Lowe, who is the day bartender at the Pullman saloon, hence there was no hesitancy in selling the drug to him.

The body was removed to the Lindquist undertaking parlors, where it now remains awaiting the time for burial. The friends of the unfortunate young man who were with him during the greater part of the forenoon and up to the time of the suicide, stated that he had not been drinking at all and that he had appeared to be in his usual good spirits.

The only sign of dependency shown by Mr. Saunders was at the police station at about 3 o'clock yesterday morning when he appeared before Desk Sergeant Hagbert Anderson and asked for lodging for the night. Mr. Anderson asked him why he did not go home, to which the young man responded that he did not care to do that because he was feeling so badly. He told Mr. Anderson that he was afraid he was going to begin drinking and that some trouble was going to occur, but he would not explain what he meant. He was given a comfortable bed in the woman's ward and seemed to rest during the night. Yesterday Mr. Anderson advised the young man's father that he was at the station and the father came down to the station immediately to see the boy. The father scolded the boy for not coming home the night before and asked him why he took it upon himself to ask for quarters at the station. The young man made no explanation of his actions except to say that he did not feel like going home.

He left the police station at about 8 o'clock and was admonished by the desk sergeant, that if he felt he was going to start drinking, or that anything serious was going to happen to him that he had better keep away from the saloons and go home to his mother. But, it appears that he did not heed the admonition.

Orson P. Saunders was born in Ogden July 23, 1887, his parents being Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saunders, who reside at 566 Twenty-second street. He had spent all his life in Ogden and had many friends among the young people of his age. He was a splendid mechanic and had been formerly employed in the machine shops of the S. P. railroad at the union depot. His mother states that he had always been a dutiful son and had no bad habits. He is survived by his parents and five sisters. The entire family is heartbroken over the occurrence, it being with much difficulty that the mother can stand the awful ordeal. The father is road supervisor for the city. He is bowed down with grief over the tragedy, which in so untimely manner ended the life of his only son.

THEY DO NOT FAVOR BILL NO. 156

SPECIAL COMMITTEE REPORT TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Des Moines Plan of Municipal Government Favored if Amended to Include Cities of Second Class.

Ogden City Chamber of Commerce: Gentlemen—Your Special committee, to which was referred house bill No. 156, relating to the creating of a water commission for Ogden City, report as follows:

Whereas, This body approves the passage of the bill now pending before the legislature providing for the Des Moines plan of city government, if extended to include cities of the second class, with such amendments as may be necessary to the welfare of Ogden City; and whereas, the amendment of the bill to include cities of the second class; and believing that under the form of city government provided by said bill the water system of Ogden City can be as effectively and satisfactorily managed as by a separate board of water commissioners.

Resolved, That we do not, at the present time, favor the passage of house bill No. 156, providing for a board of water commissioners.

Respectfully submitted,
HYRUM BELNAP, Chairman.

The above report was adopted at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last evening.

A. E. Pratt offered an amendment to the report that if the Des Moines plan of government should not be legislated upon that the Chamber of Commerce endorse the waterworks commission bill, No. 156, as proposed by the waterworks committee of the city. The amendment, however, received no second, as a consequence of which it was not discussed. It was ultimately decided to turn the report as adopted over to the committee on the Des Moines plan of city government, and that the committee use its best efforts to influence the state legislature to enact it into law. Following are the members of the committee having this matter in hand: S. H. Browne, S. S. Smith and A. E. Pratt.

So far as the Chamber of Commerce of Ogden is concerned, the waterworks commission bill is a dead one. No voice except that of City Attorney De Vine, who is said to be the one who drew up the measure proposed to be enacted into law by the legislature, was raised in favor of the proposition. Those who spoke against it were A. W. Brown, H. Belnap and W. F. Critchlow and a thousand and one questions were given to Mr. De Vine regarding the proprieties of the bill. Every hand seemed to be turned against the measure. If there were any present who approved of the waterworks commission plan for the city, they did not care to raise their voices in its support.

City Attorney De Vine stated, in behalf of the city administration, that not one of those officials who had helped prepare the bill but had thought it the best thing for the city. Personally, he was not more interested in the passage of the bill than the humblest citizen.

He stated that in case the bill failed of passage, the city council would have to enact an ordinance covering practically the same details. He also stated that the bill had not been officially presented to the city council or officially acted upon.

SILVERWARE AT LAST IS FOUND

One of the Burglars Apprehended in San Francisco, the Other Under Surveillance.

Saturday night, five weeks ago today the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright, 2347 Madison avenue, was entered by burglars and silverware valued at about $200, was stolen. Since that time the officers of the city have been constantly on the lookout for the valuable and the perpetrators of the deed, but not until yesterday were the officers rewarded for their efforts. Nearly all of the things stolen have been recovered, some of them being found in a pawn shop of the city and some at private places. A beautiful silver set, prized more highly than all the other things taken, was yesterday located and returned to the owners. And this is not all that is to it. The burglars have been identified and one of them arrested, the other being hourly expected to fall into the clutches of the law.

The burglary was committed by two very desperate men, both of whom are professional and hardened criminals, and both of whom are ex-convicts. One of the men has been traced to San Francisco, and at this time is being confined in the jail there awaiting the pleasure of the Ogden officers. The other fellow is known to the officers and it is very certain that he cannot escape the surveillance of the officers of the law. He will be landed in the city jail within a very short time. The police force of the city has done splendid work in this particular case, which serves notice upon the criminal element that they cannot, with impunity, burglarize the homes of Ogden with any assurance that they will make good.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright are much pleased at the return of the major portion of their stolen property and Discussed Over the Prunes.

"Why is it, Miss Willing, that fat men always have the prettiest wives? I seldom see a jolly, fat man with an ugly, cross looking wife. By Jove, those fellows just go in and win the pretty women every time."

"Well, Mr. Hammerslee, I can account for that. You see, a husband should be a sort of bromide, should have a soothing effect. Fat men are placid, calm, jolly and good providers. They like the good things of life themselves, and they like to see their wives well dressed, and to sit down to a good table. No wonder women like them better than they do lean, dyspeptic, nervous, cranky men, who find fault, nag, and are stingy. Men like this want a lot of waiting on and attention, they are generally jealous and selfish. Fat men have a fuss, seem to understand that wives are as fond of being spoiled and of having good clothes and good dinners as other women are, and hence women naturally marry men of this temperament."
